

BODHI

International Journal of Research in Humanities, Arts and Science

An online, Peer reviewed, Refereed and Quarterly Journal

Vol : 2

No : 1

October 2017

ISSN : 2456-5571

CENTRE FOR RESOURCE, RESEARCH & PUBLICATION SERVICES (CRRPS)

www.crrps.in | www.bodhijournals.com

IMPORTANCE OF LEARNING ENGLISH LANGUAGE

Ms. K. Sharmila Jane

Research Scholar, Joseph Arts and Science College, Thirunavalur, India

Abstract

English may not be the most spoken language in the world, but it is the official language in a large number of countries. English is the dominant business language and it has become almost a necessity for people to speak English if they are to enter a Global work force. Research from all over the world shows that cross-border business communication is most often conducted in English. Its importance in the Global market place therefore cannot be understood. Learning English can change your life.

Many of the world's top films, books and music are published and produced in English. Therefore by learning English one can access to various entertainments in English language and will be able to have a greater cultural understanding..Most of the content produced in the internet is in English. So, knowing English will allow us to access to an incredible amount of information. Although learning English can be challenging and time consuming, we can see that it is also very valuable to learn and create many opportunities.

English as International common Tongue

There are several factors that make the English language essential for communication in our current time. First of all, it is the most common foreign language. This means that two people who come from different countries usually use English as a common language to communicate. That's why everyone needs to learn the language in order to get in touch on an international level, speaking it will help us communicate with people from countries all over the world, not just English speaking ones.

Education

Education is also essential to the field of education. In many countries children are taught and encouraged to learn English as a second language. Even in countries where it is not an official language such as the Netherlands or Sweden, we find that many syllabi in science and Engineering are written in English. Because it is the dominant language in the sciences most of the research and studies we find in any given scientific field will be written in it as well. At the University level, students in many countries study almost all their subjects in English in order to make the material more accessible to international students.

The Internet and Press

On the internet, the majority of websites are written and created in English. Even sites in other languages often give us the option to translate the site. It's the primary language of the press. More newspapers and books are written in English we can find more information regarding all the subjects if we can speak the language.

Resources make learning English easy

English is actually the easiest language of the world to the learners because there are so many resources available. There are thousands of resources on the internet and in bookstores. We can supplement traditional learning materials with children T.V shows and books. Watching T.V channels in English with subtitles will help us pick up conversation in no time.

Travel and Business

With good understanding and communication in English, we can travel around the globe. Because it is the international language for foreigners it's easy to get assistance and help in every part of the world. Every travel booking site will have English as a booking option. English skills will also help in business venture we choose to follow. If we visit some offices, companies, Government organizations we will see the importance of English. Any big company will hire their perfect staff after getting to know whether the people they are hiring, are good at English or not. Companies which wanted to function at an international level, consider their staff well educated only if they are good English speakers, writers and readers.

Conclusion

English language has always been a diverse entity. It has changed dramatically over the centuries since it first arrived on the shores of Britain from the North of Europe and these changes mean that the language that was spoken at that time is almost incomprehensible to us now, as the language spread beyond Britain has continued to change and change in different ways in different context.

References

1. Ansary H, and Babaii, E. (2000). Universal characteristics of EFL/ESL, Textbooks.
2. A step towards systematic Text book evaluation. (Internet Article)
3. Gatehouse, K. (2000) Key issues in English for specific purposes (ESP) Curriculum Development. (Internet Article)
4. Hortar, J.D. (2004) English for specific purposes. (Internet Article)
5. Hutchinson, T., & Waters, A. (1987) English for specific purposes: A learning central approach Cambridge University press.